Dear Mr. Casey,

May 4, 1982

I am working on a story on the Soviet succession and would like to be able to write about our experts who profile Soviet leaders.

Your public affairs office has turned down my request for an interview with your specialists.

It seems to me that it is one thing for us to protect our national security secrets, but it's quite another to help the Soviets to protect what they consider their secrets. If they want to keep their Politburo leaders as if they were ladies of a harem, why should we help?

Yours very truly,
